notwithstanding. A soldier from the Logan, Vanderford by name, was arrested after the departure of that transport yesterday. He was drunk at the time. In the Police Court this forenoon he was fined $2 and costs and this afternoon he will be turned over to the military authorities at Camp McKinley to be kept until the arrival of the next transport.

When the China was telephoned this morning, F. W. Macfarlane went down to the pilot house to take the pilot boat out in order to meet his wife who had written that she would be a passenger aboard. Mr. Macfarlane stepped from the Navy wharf to a Japanese fishing boat with the intention of getting into the pilot boat from the launch of the Union Express Co. As he was in the act of crossing, he slipped and fell over striking heavily on the gunwale of the launch. The result was a badly scratch ed and bruised forehead and nose. The accident did not deter Mr. Macfarlane from his purpose and he was soon speeding away toward the steamer.

P. M. S. S. China.

The P. M. S. S. China, Seabury commander, arrived in port and hauled alongside the Pacific Mail wharf at about 7:30 o'clock this morning after an exceedingly fine trip from San In the Francisco. The China could have reached port yesterday afternoon but Captain Seabury's orders are to make the regular seven day run of the other steamers.

The China brought a large number of passengers for this port. About haif are Honolulu people. The China is now taking on coal and she is on the boards to sail for China and Japan at 10:30 o'clock tonight,

The Trade Winds.

The Pilot Chart of the North Pacific for September says:

"In the western half of the ocean the trades will be fickle in both strength and direction. In Honolulu the average prevalence of the trades during September is twenty-six days. A regular interchange o fland and sea breeze will be felt on the leeward side of the Hawaitan Islands, especially where the mountains rise to any great height."
